Friday the 13th: Killer Puzzle Slashes Onto the PS4!

On November 13th, the Body Count's About To Get A Lot... Bodier. Countier. Murderier?

After a successful worldwide launch on Steam, iOS, Android, Xbox One, and Nintendo Switch™ last year, with over 17 million players and almost 2 BILLION slain campers, the horror-puzzle aficionados at Blue Wizard Digital (Slayaway Camp) are proud to finally bring Friday the 13th: Killer Puzzle to the PS4 on Friday, November 13th!

Slide the iconic silver-screen slasher Jason Voorhees around isometric levels to ambush a variety of victims: attack them with collectible murder weapons like chainsaws and machetes, or frighten them into environmental hazards like campfires, bear traps, and vats of bubbling acid. Delightfully gruesome “Kill Scenes” punctuate the puzzling as you progress through multiple episodes, from classic campgrounds to more exotic locations such as the streets of Manhattan, abandoned amusement parks, supermax prisons, beach resorts, outer space and even—through a time-travel twist—Victorian London and other eras. Solve over 150 puzzles through 12 mind-warping episodes; you can even unlock other Jason variations, from the cult-classic “Baghead Jason” and “Part 3 Jason” to our very own must-see “Flaming Jason” and “Medieval Jason”, and many more!

How high will your body count go?
